2025 International Clinical Nurse Leader Conference The CNL Advantage: Driving Sustainable Change in Health Care

The 2025 International Clinical Nurse Leader Conference will bring together practicing CNLs, CNL faculty, and students with an interest in amplifying the significant impact that Clinical Nurse Leaders have on patient care outcomes across the healthcare continuum. In addition to exploring current issues in practice, research, and education, this in-person conference will provide the opportunity to network and collaborate with other CNLs and faculty. Registration opens soon.
