2024 CALL FOR APPLICATIONS

Elevating Leaders in Academic Nursing Program (ELAN)

Session 1 - In Person: October 20-25, 2024, Chicago, IL
Session 2 - Virtual: Winter 2025
Session 3 - Virtual: Spring 2025

PURPOSE

The Elevating Leaders in Academic Nursing Program (ELAN) is designed for aspiring deans and senior faculty members in leadership roles. ELAN offers a comprehensive experience, including a focused assessment, diverse content, and leadership exercises. Participants have the opportunity to build a supportive peer network for long-term partnerships.

ELAN aims to enhance the executive leadership skills of mid to upper-level faculty members who possess prior academic administration experience and aspire to lead their nursing academic units.

This fellowship is tailored for individuals with academic administration backgrounds who seek senior administrative or executive roles within nursing academic units. It is not intended for junior faculty members aspiring to higher responsibilities.

The year-long program includes a focused assessment, a rich array of content on successful executive leadership, and the chance to establish a peer network for sustained collaboration and personal growth.

BACKGROUND

The development of high-level leadership skills in faculty and administrators in schools of nursing is vital to the success of the baccalaureate and graduate nursing enterprise given the complex challenges being faced by these organizations. Individuals in leadership roles at schools of nursing are challenged by an array of complex issues including:

- Financial constraints faced by higher education
- The need to develop effective partnerships with the practice environment to assure the development of training opportunities and appropriately educated professional nurses
- The need for strategies to recruit diverse student populations to the field
- The need to partner with multiple players to meet these challenges
Moreover, there is growing awareness that the aging of the nursing profession also is reflected in the demographics of those individuals who are administering academic nursing programs. One of AACN’s overarching goals for the ELAN program is to help change the demographics of chief academic nursing administrators by preparing a more diverse cadre of faculty for leadership roles earlier in their career.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

ELAN features an intensive weeklong seminar, focused assessment activities, facilitation of a mentorship experience, opportunities for follow-up with seminar faculty, and the sharing of ideas and resources among fellows. The program focuses on key leadership competencies needed in complex nursing education and healthcare environments. ELAN is devoted to general executive leader development. Note that fiscal and academic issues, while discussed and used as examples, are not the primary focus. Previous Fellows have evaluated the content very highly, calling it “life changing”. Seminar topics include the following:

Introduction of the Key Vision and Framework for a Strategic Intervention on Leadership:
- Theories of leadership
- Relating theory to strategic actions
- Evidence for validation
- Value of a full range assessment and intervention
- Review and evaluation of the strategic assessment

From the Broad to the Specific:
- Strategic assessment of the individual – possibilities for growth and change
- Peer learning and feedback mechanisms
- Case studies for change
- Creating personal models for strategic growth and change

Targeted Cultural Change:
- Linking the individual’s assessment to the organizational culture
- Developing plans for intervention
- Establishing long-term networks
- Change and conflict
- Evaluation and redesign

ELIGIBILITY AND SELECTION CRITERIA

ELAN is competitive, resulting in a select group of leadership fellows. Applicants must be nurse educators employed at AACN member institutions, meet the eligibility criteria, and provide evidence of institutional support for this program.
