Building DEI Institution Capacity Through Transgender Health Professional Development for Nurse Practitioner Faculty

Background

Injustice at Every Turn: A Report: Transgender Discrimination Survey (2015).

- 1. 23% of Transgender Individuals Postpone Healthcare Due to Fear of Maltreatment
- 2.. Suicide Rate: 41% versus 1.6% in the general population
- 3.K-12 Rate of Harassment: 78%
- 4.Employment Maltreatment: 90%
- 5.Refused the Provision of Medical Care: 19%
- 6.Uniformed Doctors: 50%
- 7.Rate of extreme poverty for Black transgender people 34%

Research suggests:

- 1. Nursing faculty have limited knowledge, experience and readiness for teaching LGBTQ health content
- 2. Surveyed NP's perceived gaps in their knowledge that threaten their ability to deliver quality care to transgender patients
- 3. Transgender students report they have been asked to teach transgender health content or to advise faculty regarding content.

Pamela Levesque, DNP, APRN, FNP-BC, CNE Chamberlain College of Nursing

Transgender Health Part 1

Co	ourse Description:	C
Th	is focus of this course will be to introduce	Τ
the learner to theories and principles that inf	form the topic of gender minority healthcare.	tr
То	pics will include bias, social justice,	C minority stress theory, and the determinants of		te
he	alth.	h
		tr
Co	ourse Objectives: By the end of this course, learners will be able to:
		16
1.	Discuss theories that inform health and healthcare for gender minority patients.	1
2.	Engage in self-reflection regarding personally held biases.	2
3.	Apply the determinants of health to the understanding of health care needs for	3
	transgender people.	J
4		1
	✓	4
4.	$\mathbf{C}$	4

References (full references upon request)

Lim, F., Johnson, M., & Michele Eliason. (2015). A national survey of faculty knowledge, experience, and readiness, for teaching lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender health in baccalaureate nursing programs. Nursing Education Perspectives, 36(3), 144-152. doi: https://10.5480/14-1355. Yingling, T.C., Cotler, K., & Hughes, L.T. (2016). Building nurses' capacity to address health inequities: incorporating lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender content in a family nurse practitioner programme. Journal of Clinical Knowledge, 26, 2807-2817. doi: http://10.1111/jocn.13707

Transgender	Health	Part 2

Course Description:	Cou
This is the second of a series of three courses	In th
imed at building faculty capacity to deliver	expl ransgender health content. This course will	inclu
over an introduction to transgender	adol erminology, gender versus sexual identity,
ealth promotion needs, and an overview of	Cou
ransitioning.	lear
Course Objectives: By the end of this course,	1 1
earners will be able to:	1. 1
. Identify acceptable terminology relative to	2. ]
	(
gender and sexual minorities.
Appreciate the unique differences between	3. ]
gender, sex, and sexuality.	ć
. Apply the principles of health promotion to	4. 1
transgender patients.	1
. Distinguish between the meanings of "coming out" and transitioning for transgender people.

Course Format: Online, asynchronous, courses offered over 4-weeks. Courses will be taken sequentially. Teaching strategies will include, but not limited to: Concept Maps, self-assessments/surveys, The Fenway modules, reflection assignments, discussion board and/or Voice Thread, annotated bibliography, lay press books and/or movies, interviews. CEU's will be provided through University application to accreditation agency.

Transgender Health Part 3

urse Description:

this third, and final course, participants will olore primary care for transgender people to lude special considerations in the care of plescents and young adults.

urse Objectives: By the end of this course, rners will be able to:

- Discuss best-practice related to intake forms and interviewing strategies
- List examples of guidelines and organizations that support transgender health.
- Differentiate the needs of transgender adolescents/young adults versus adults.
- Utilize guidelines to address holistic
- healthcare needs of transgender patients.

Building DEI Capacity Through Transgender Health Professional Development for Nurse Practitioner Faculty

Pamela Levesque, DNP Chamberlain College of Nursing

Biography

Pamela Levesque holds a Doctorate of Nursing Practice from Regis College, a Masters of Nursing Science in Primary Care (Family Nurse Practitioner) from Northeastern University, and a Bachelors Degree in Nursing from the University of New Hampshire. Dr. Levesque is a Professor of Nursing for the Online Family Nurse Practitioner Program at Chamberlain College of Nursing. She holds certification as a Family Nurse Practitioner and as a Nurse Educator, working more than 30 years in both roles.

Contact Information Pamela Levesque, DNP, APRN, FNP-BC, CNE Professor of Nursing Chamberlain College of Nursing plevesque@chamberlain.edu (603)512-5929

DIVERSITY LEADERSHIP INSTITUTE

For academic nursing leadership committed to diversity, equity, and inclusion