

The 2024 AACN-Gold Interprofessional Humanism in Healthcare Award

A new honor that celebrates and elevates the collaboration of physicians and nurses

Nominate a pair/team by May 1

The Arnold P. Gold Foundation and the American Association of Colleges of Nursing (AACN) seek nominations for the AACN-Gold Interprofessional Humanism in Healthcare Award.

This groundbreaking award recognizes the impact of interprofessional collaboration between nurses and physicians that has fostered humanism in healthcare. We define humanism in healthcare as collaborative, compassionate, and scientifically excellent care that places the interests, values, and dignity of all people at the core of every healthcare interaction.
