Commission on Nurse Certification (CNC)

Sponsorship Guide

Established in 2007, the Commission on Nurse Certification (CNC) is the autonomous certifying arm of the American Association of Colleges of Nursing (AACN). Over 7,500 professionals have earned the CNL credential. The CNL is a master's educated nurse, prepared for practice across the continuum of care within any healthcare setting. The CNC Board of Commissioners (CNCBOC) governs the CNL Certification Program. The CNCBOC and staff are solely responsible for the policies and administration of the CNL Certification Program.

MISSION

To govern the CNL certification activities and promote CNL practice.

VISION

To establish a collaborative environment with evolving CNL stakeholders to improve health and healthcare delivery, promote certification and professional development and keep abreast of healthcare issues.

VALUES

Leadership, certification standards, professional development and collaboration.

The Commission on Nurse Certification will work with you to create a rewarding partnership and transform your ideas into marketing solutions that resonate with our certified Clinical Nurse Leaders! You'll be able to achieve your goals and provide our CNLs with your valuable products and services. CNC offers multiple price points for sponsorship which allow you to find the best fit for your budget.
