

Kim Anderson Heller, PhD

Senior Consultant
Voyagers Consulting

Kim Anderson Heller, Ph.D., is a Senior Consultant for Voyagers Consulting and the Director of Education for the Red Angus Association of America. For more than thirty years, she has provided program development, training, and facilitation in areas of human and organizational development for both youth and adult audiences at the local, regional, and national levels. Her facilitative approach engages program stakeholders in the process of designing and developing strategies to advance organizations through purposeful leadership. She is energized by the curiosity of individuals as they grow in their self-awareness and recognize the power of personal impact.
