

Join the GNSA

The Graduate Nursing Student Academy (GNSA) provides high value programs, services, and resources to nursing students enrolled in master's and doctoral programs. GNSA focuses on meeting the professional development needs of graduate nursing students who are preparing for careers as faculty members, researchers, advanced practice registered nurses, clinical nurse leaders, policy experts, and healthcare administrators, among other roles.

GNSA membership is free for all graduate students enrolled at AACN member institutions.

Membership includes

- Exclusive Career Resources
- Member-only Webinars
- Leadership Development
- Networking & Collaboration
- Funding Announcements
- Scholarship Opportunities

How to join

1 Verify that your school is a member by checking the program directory at www.aacnnursing.org/nurse-education

2 Fill out the online application at www.aacnnursing.org/GNSA/Join

Become a GNSA Liaison

As the GNSA continues to grow its membership, there is a need for graduate students to represent their school as a GNSA Liaison. If you are a graduate student with strong leadership potential and an interest in introducing GNSA initiatives and resources to peers, sign up today to be a GNSA Liaison!

NOTE: Multiple students may volunteer to be GNSA Liaisons. We encourage students from different programs to sign up to vary GNSA representation at your school.

What does a GNSA Liaison do?

- Acts as the primary point of contact for the school.
- Engages directly with AACN and members of the GNSA Leadership Council.
- Provides feedback to GNSA Leadership Council.
- Participates in biannual town hall calls with other GNSA Liaisons nationwide.
- Develops leadership and networking skills.
- Engages fellow students by sharing information, resources, and events.
- Updates monthly newsletters with features, resources and tips for fellow GNSA members.

How to sign up

If you are interested in serving as a GNSA Liaison at your school, complete the brief online application at www.aacn.wufoo.com/forms/gnsa-liaison-application.
