

Regional Support for Schools of Nursing

Regional Chair

Olga Ehrlich: Dr. Ehrlich received her BSN from Arizona State University, her PhD from University of Massachusetts, Amherst, and was a post-doctoral research fellow at the Phyllis F. Cantor Center in Nursing and Patient Care at the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute, Boston, MA. Dr. Ehrlich's research has focused on the intersections of perception, behavior, and social processes used by hospice triads when managing pain, in order to identify and test interventions for poorly controlled cancer pain. She has developed and piloted a generalist palliative care curriculum for undergraduate students and presented workshops on teaching palliative care at national symposia.
